CONGRESS

BY J. W. DAVIS

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—GOP Chairman Carroll Reece branded Democratic handling of the meat problem tonight as a fine argument for a Republican Congress, while livestock prices and the stock market soared in swift reaction to last night's meat recon-trol decision.

With all controls off cattle and meat—junked by presidential order to combat the meat shortage—President Truman and his top advisers pressed White House discussions on how rapidly to drop wage controls. One official predicted a swift tapering off as the least to be expected, and that soon.

Democrats Caused Shortage

On the first day of a free livestock market, hog and cattle prices jumped in all markets reported, some spectacularly. The New York stock exchange rang up gains as high as $12 a share and stock market averages recorded their sharpest rise in more than seven years.

Reece carried the Republican ball in replying to Mr. Truman's assertion of last night that a few "selfish" men in Congress are directly to blame for the shortage which forced off meat controls.

"The (price control) bill was passed by Democrats," Reece declared in a nationwide (CBS) broadcast.

He added that if the administration "had listened to the advice of Republican members of Congress instead of the advice of the radical fringe," the meat situation would not have developed and "would never have become a political issue."

Mr. Truman drew no distinctions between parties when he laid the responsibility for "this feeble law" Congress gave him to fight inflation.

Political Angles Watched

Reece contended that the Democrats, in handling the meat issue, simply were being typical. "Don't you see?" he asked. "It isn't only meat. People understand the meat shortage when it comes home to them. But it's everything—it's control of interest rates, it's housing, it's exports and imports, it's labor, it's management. In short, it's the American system that is at stake."

"Let's restore the government of the United States to the American people," the GOP leader pleaded. "Let's elect a Republican Congress November 5."

In a follow-up to Mr. Truman's speech, it was learned that the United States plans to remove its quarantine against imports of Mexican cattle on Friday. Mr. Truman had reported that an investigation of health conditions now made this possible.

Politicians of both parties sought anxiously to learn how the voters feel now about the meat shortage and prospects for the future. The fall elections come three weeks from today.

The meat-eating public faced the prospect of getting more meat fairly soon—perhaps within ten days—but at prices that are bound to reflect today's first burst upward on livestock markets.

Even without this influence, pork chops rose in one Washington store from 43 cents a pound to $1. Hamburger in Pittsburgh jumped from 29 to 59 cents a pound.

Move To Cross Border
For Fattening

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The United States will lift its quarantine against shipments of Mexican cattle at 12:01 a. m. (CST) Friday, Oct. 18, it was learned tonight.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture, which imposed the ban June 5 because of potential hoof and mouth disease conditions, said Secretary Clinton P. Anderson probably will rescind the quarantine in an order tomorrow.

Acting under a 1930 sanitary treaty with Mexico Anderson invoked the quarantine after Mexico permitted two imports of Zebu (Brahma) bulls for breeding purposes over U. S. protest. Mexico imported the bulls from Brazil, where hoof and mouth disease is known to exist.

The move to lift restrictions against incoming animals from Mexico follows President Truman's radio address last night, in which he said investigation of cattle health conditions in Mexico indicated the border can be opened immediately.

Movement of thousands of Mexican cattle toward the border already has started. Cattlemen, however, said that not more than 10,000 head will be ready for immediate slaughter.

It was pointed out that Mexican cattle entering the country now will be sent directly to ranges to be fattened for market next year. Reports available at the Agriculture department indicated that few, if any, will reach the market for at least eight or ten months.

Marine Engineers
Ready To Give Up
Strike Peace Talk

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The negotiating committee of the CIO-Marine Engineers in the current maritime strike served notice today its members will leave Washington unless arrangements to resume contract talks with operators are made by tomorrow noon.

Calling on Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach to arrange a renewal of negotiations with the Engineers (MEBA) committee asserted responsibility for "prolongation of the strike with its terrific toll rests squarely with the ship owners."

Schwelienbach, replying, indicated he hoped the engineers would not take the threatened action, but said that for the time being he could not schedule any meeting between the MEBA and east coast operators.

He reminded the negotiating committee that the east coast operators had informed him they would be unable to attend a negotiating session which he had attempted to arrange with MEBA in Washington today.

Virtually all of the merchant marine fleet has been tied up in American ports since Oct. 1.

Suspects Released
In Laundry Room
Slaying At Detroit

Detroit, Oct. 15 (AP)—The brutal laundry room slaying of Mrs. Josephine Tracy Rose, 38-year-old divorcee, remained on the unsolved list today with the release of the only two police suspects from homicide squad custody.

Recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide directed the release of Hosiab Mingo, 43, a janitor, after the Wayne county prosecutor's office said there was no evidence against him to warrant his further detention.

At almost the same time police released Stewart Anderson, a bachelor tenant of the apartment building in which Mrs. Rose's body was found Oct. 5.

Mingo, the janitor in the building, had been under police questioning for 10 days but assistant prosecutor John A. Ricca told Judge Ide that "there are many unexplained circumstances on this case but, under our form of government, Mingo does not have to explain them."

Inspector George Branton of the homicide squad had asked a murder warrant against Mingo, while the latter's attorney sought his release on a habeas corpus writ.

Paris, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Pacu-sian dreamboat was being readied tonight for a transatlantic flight back home in an "off-again, on-again" attempt to beat the time record, with Westover Field, at Chicopee, Mass., as its first goal.

The Dreamboat started once today for the record but turned back when it was 500 miles out and drumming along at 400 miles an hour, well in advance of the speed needed to make the flight in the 11 hours and 30 minutes set up as a target.

It came back because of trouble with the number three and four engines. Mechanics aided by the pilot, Col. William S. Irvine, worked on the ship all day, to ready it for a new attempt.

Russellville, Ky., Oct. 15 (AP)—The southbound Memphis section of the Louisville and Nashville railroad's Pan American passenger train crashed into a heavily loaded trailer truck today and left the rails, killing the two-man engine crew and injuring 16 others.

The dead were identified as Engineer P. J. Potter and Fireman Jim W. Murphy, both of Paris, Tenn., emergency squads with acetylene torches were trying to extricate the bodies from the wreckage early tonight.

None of the sixteen injured, including passengers and crewmen, was reported seriously hurt. T. D. Smith, Nashville, Tenn., driver of the truck, escaped with minor injuries.

McKeighan Fights
Return To Michigan
From Hospital Bed

Miami, Fla., Oct. 15 (AP)—From a Miami Beach hospital bed, William J. McKeighan, former mayor of Flint, Mich., today mapped a Florida supreme court appeal to block his return to Michigan to face gambling conspiracy charges brought by the Macomb county grand jury.

Judge Charles A. Carroll turned down McKeighan's request for a writ of habeas corpus that would have prevented his extradition to Michigan. However, the court granted a stay order until October 18 to allow the supreme court appeal.

McKeighan did not appear and his attorney, William Pruitt, described him as "a very sick man" confined to bed by doctors' orders.

Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida has already signed an extradition order and only intervention by the supreme court can excuse the Dade county sheriff at Miami from delivering McKeighan to Michigan authorities. McKeighan retained his freedom under $5,000 bond pending action by the high court.

Lansing, Oct. 15 (AP)—The state fairgrounds may be used only by regularly incorporated non-profit organization of officially organized civic, fraternal, patriotic and other groups, the state conservation commission announced today.

The grounds and buildings will be leased "only when it is definitely understood that the profits revert only to the organizations and not individuals," the commission said.

The commission said groups would be granted permission to use the grounds only when their organizations will not interfere with the holding of a state fair, groups will be charged a fee to cover damages.

MEAT SUPPLY
MAY IMPROVE
BY NOVEMBERBUMPER CORN CROP
BEING USED TO FATTEN CATTLE

(By The Associated Press)

America's vast meat producing industry geared itself Tuesday to the job of speeding meat to the dinner table but the first day of uncontrolled market operations found a sharp drop in receipts and a lull in prices.

Unanswered yet were these questions: When will meat become available in quantity and how much will it cost then? Some sources in the meat industry predicted considerable improvement in meat supplies within two weeks. Most others predicted it would be two or three months or even longer before supply starts catching up with demand.

Poultry, Eggs Lower
Hogs and cattle prices jumped in all livestock markets reporting. In the commodities markets, poultry, egg and corn prices dropped and butter was unchanged.

Meat industry sources agreed generally that President Truman's price control removal announcement came too late to affect Tuesday's livestock receipts. Farmers, sitting tight until they learned the future of meat price controls, shipped about one-fourth less livestock to market than a week ago.

Department of agriculture figures on salable livestock receipts Tuesday at the 12 principal markets, including those billed direct to packers, showed:

	Cattle	Hogs	Sheep
Today	29,300	7,500	53,300
Week ago	41,200	9,500	48,000
Year ago	66,100	26,800	52,000

In the Chicago market, hogs brought $8.75 to $11 a hundredweight above Monday's OPA ceilings, with a record top of $27.50 paid sparingly for choice barrows and gilts. Sows were $7.25 to $8.75 above old ceilings. Cattle prices were up $2.00 to $8.50, over old ceilings but the $28.75 top price was below the Aug. 30 record of $30.25.

Early Spurt Expected
Similar price jumps were noted in other markets. Part of the price rise represented the removal of subsidy payments which were discontinued with the ending of controls. These payments were $1.75 to a hundredweight on hogs and $0.50 to $2.40 on cattle, depending on grade.

Consumers will find these higher livestock prices reflected in retail prices when this meat reaches the market but livestock men say a heavy run of receipts ultimately will force prices down. The American meat institute, spokesman for the major packers, predicted livestock raisers would hold their animals "for a while" before coming in.

"Livestock raisers are not in a position to send large supplies to market immediately," the institute said. "There will be an early spurt and the supply should begin to come in soon—perhaps by next week. But because of the abundance of corn, livestock raisers are willing to hold their cattle for a while in order to fatten them up."

Girl Slashed And Branded; Assailant
Uses Chloroform

Fort Scott, Kas., Oct. 15 (AP)—An assailant who used chloroform to subdue his victim, branded a 16-year-old high school girl on both thighs and cut her with a knife on the legs, neck and face, police chief Richard Musgrave reported today.

The girl, Ruth Smock, told officials that she could not identify the man who attacked her last night. She was alone when he entered, greeted her with "Hi Sis," turned out the lights, seized her and held a bottle of chloroform under her nose. She said she faintly remembered seeing the man heat a flatiron before she lost consciousness. She did not awaken until today, she told Musgrave.

Miss Smock was not raped, a physician reported. The girl, whose home is in Richards, Mo., lived in the apartment here while attending school and working as a telephone operator.

LICOR YIELDS $2,963,558
Lansing, Oct. 15 (AP)—September collections of $895,654 for the 10 per cent tax on liquor brought the total for the first three months of the current fiscal year to $2,963,558, the State Liquor Control Commission reported today.

Discord Ends Paris
Peace Conference;
Yugoslavs Walk Out

BY LOUIS NEVIN

Paris, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Paris peace conference, boycotted in New York of the United Nations General Assembly and the Big Four foreign ministers. The conference was declared officially over at 5:28 p. m. (10:28 a. m. Central Standard Time) by French President Georges Bidault, said in the delegates' final approval to the official record of draft treaties with five former Hitler satellite nations—Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

The withdrawal of Yugoslavia served to emphasize the discord between eastern and western nations which had marred the three-month deliberations of delegates from 21 Allied nations. This discord reached a climax when Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov accused the United States of attempting to dominate the conference and said he would insist that the Big Four reconsider disputed sections of the treaties. The four ministers will meet in New York on Nov. 4.

Yugoslav Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj, said in a letter to the conference chairman explaining the empty bloc of Yugoslav seats today that his country could not sign the treaty with Italy unless the main provisions affecting Yugoslavia were changed.

In reply, U. S. Secretary of State James E. Byrnes declared "just as no one nation had the power to win the war, so no one nation has the wisdom to dictate the peace."

In a final summation of Russian views, Molotov told the delegates a few minutes before adjournment that "irrespective of whether other countries like it or not, the Soviet Union will do all in its power for what it believes essential to a democratic peace."

The conference's working press, meanwhile, voted overwhelmingly in a straw poll that it considered the parity was a failure.

By an equally large majority, however, the newsmen expressed the opinion that war between the Soviet bloc and western nations was avoidable. The Slavic press abstained from the poll.

WAR CRIMINALS
NOT ALL TRIEDJackson Urges U. S. To Prosecute Other
Guilty Germans

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson said tonight there are many German industrialists, diplomats, politicians and others "whose guilt does not differ" from that of the 11 high Nazis given death sentences at Nuremberg.

He recommended that the United States proceed on its own to try those within American-occupied Germany, rather than putting their cases before another international tribunal.

Industrialists and financiers could be tried, Jackson said, on "such specific charges as the use of slave labor." He called it "regrettable" that the Nuremberg tribunal acquitted financier Hjalmar Schacht and diplomat Franz von Papen.

In a report as U. S. chief prosecutor, Jackson told President Truman the trial and the decision condemning 11 high Nazis to death "do more than anything in our time to give to international law what Woodrow Wilson described as 'the kind of vitality it can only have if it is a real expression of our moral judgment.'"

Saying "we cannot doubt that they strengthen the bulwarks of peace and tolerance," he added, "The four nations through their prosecutors and through their representatives on the tribunal, have enunciated standards of conduct which bring a new hope to men of good will and from which future statesmen will not lightly depart. The standards by which the Germans have been condemned will become the condemnation of any nation that is faithless to them."

Imports Of Scarce
Leather Encouraged
In CPA Allocation

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—In a move to increase imports of scarce leather, the Civilian Production Administration announced today it will not count against quota allocations foreign cattle hides and calf skins withdrawn from customs by tanners and tanning contractors.

CPA said the new ruling will continue "so long as a substantial part of the industry is operating at less than a minimum economic rate." The agency cautioned, however, that tanners and contractors should not withdraw more foreign hides and skins than can be put into process within 60 days.

The agency said no estimate has been made of how many additional foreign hides and skins may come into the country as the result of the ruling. However, a CPA official estimated that it may bring in as many as 500,000 by the end of the year.

Radar Guided Bomb
Unwrapped By Navy

Chincoteague, Va., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Bat, a radar-directed glider bomb which stalks its prey and which is hailed as the forerunner of the weapons of the future, was unwrapped by the navy in a two-day demonstration yesterday and today off the North Carolina Capes.

The first guided missile to be issued to the fleet, The Bat is dropped by fighter or patrol bomber planes, then glides more than ten miles to its target, with a thousand-pound bomb tucked in its belly. Radar, carried in the nose, automatically tracks a turning and twisting enemy ship and corrects aiming and wind errors.

Seven High Nazis
Get Future Homes
In Spandau Prison

Berlin, Oct. 15 (AP)—Spandau prison, in the British zone of Berlin, chosen because it is small and easy to guard, will be the future home of the seven high Nazis sentenced to imprisonment at Nuremberg, the Allied commandant of Berlin announced today.

An American spokesman said it would "be the equal of any Sing Sing."

The modern prison will be watched by an international guard. It probably will be ready within a month, but no date has yet been fixed for the transfer of the seven from Nuremberg. Besides these seven, Nazis such as industrialists who may be convicted in future trials, will be confined at Spandau.

The seven to come from Nuremberg who escaped the death penalty are: Rudolf Hess, Walter Funk, Erich Raeder, to be confined for life.

Baldur von Schirach and Albert Speer, 20 years.
Constantin von Neurath, 15 years.
Karl Doenitz, 10 years.

JUNKING OF OPA
PUSHED BY AFLRemoval Of All But Rent
Ceilings Demanded
By Labor Group

BY NORMAN WALKER
Chicago, Oct. 15 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor called today for an immediate end of wage and price controls and asked employers for a voice in running their businesses.

Though President Truman had outlined a plan to accelerate lifting of controls over a period of time, the AFL convention action demanded that all except rent ceilings be removed at once and right away.

"Wartime controls are steadily developing into hindrances to reconversion and normal progress," the AFL policy statement said. Both the AFL and CIO until now have led the fight for a strong OPA law. The AFL's new position is that the price ceiling system has been allowed to deteriorate to a point where workers would be better off without controls of any sort.

The AFL's member of the WSB, Robert J. Watt, told the convention the board should be abolished. He blamed the collapse of the government wage-price program on the CIO, contending the agreement ending the CIO Steelworkers Union strike last spring ended all real effort to keep wages within a stabilized price structure.

The convention statement said employers should jointly agree with unions on the best production techniques to be used to attain maximum output and reduce waste in effort and materials. It asked for development of competent statistics to show worker production achievements.

Osteopath-Medical Dispute Closes Up
Belding Hospital

Belding, Mich., Oct. 15 (AP)—A dispute between medical doctors and osteopaths which has closed the 25-bed Belding community hospital was taken before the city council tonight.

The hospital was forced to release its five patients after Mrs. Marie MacNaughton, hospital superintendent, and three nurses resigned. Mrs. MacNaughton said the nurses were medically trained and refused to work with osteopaths.

The city council was given petitions asking that voters decide Nov. 5 whether they want the hospital leased to a non-profit organization.

Dr. Earl Price, Belding mayor, is an osteopath.

Elevator Girl Cut
By Negro Knifer In Detroit Skyscraper

Detroit, Oct. 15 (AP)—The slaying of a young woman elevator operator high up in a Detroit skyscraper went unsolved today despite a floor-by-floor police search for the assailant.

Mary Dabbs, 24, the operator, said a tall Negro accused her of ignoring his request to stop the elevator at the 20th floor of the dime building, then cut her arm with a knife before leaving the car.

Hundreds of office workers jammed the lobby as police blocked all stairways and exits. But the slasher apparently caught a down car immediately and disappeared before they arrived, officers said.

HITLER GANG
PAYS PENALTY
AT NUERNBERGTOP NAZI CHEATS
GALLOWS WITH CYANIDE

By Thomas A. Reedy
Nuremberg, (Wednesday), Oct. 16 (AP)—Ten condemned Nazi ringleaders died on the gallows in the Nuremberg jail yard early today but Hermann Goering, Adolf Hitler's No. 2 man, cheated the noose by swallowing poison in his cell before the death sentence was read to him.

Col. B. C. Andrus, security chief for the prison, made this announcement relative to Goering:

"Goering was not hanged, he committed suicide at 10:45 p. m. (4:45 p. m. EST) last night by taking cyanide of potassium."

Glass In His Mouth
"He was discovered at once by the sentinel who watched and heard him make an odd noise and twitch," Andrus continued. "The sentinel called the doctor and chaplain who were in the corridor and who found him dying."

"There were pieces of glass in his mouth and an odor of cyanide of potassium on his breath."

Andrus announced that all the other Nazis, sentenced by the international military tribunal on Oct. 1 for war crimes, crimes against the peace and crimes against humanity, were hanged.

Potion Concealed
"Goering's hands did not go beneath the blankets and were not observed to go to his mouth," Andrus said. "An investigation is now going on to learn how he could conceal the poison when he was subject to daily and rigorous searches, both of his clothes and his person. The cyanide was contained in a small cartridge case similar to those found before on other Nazis and like the one found on him a year ago last May at Mondorf prison. At that time it was hidden in a can of nescene."

Kingsbury Smith, representing the combined American Press, said Joachim Von Ribbentrop, the German foreign minister before and during the war, was the first man to die. While awaiting the placing of the black hood over his head, he uttered his last words, in German, in a firm, clear voice: "God save Germany," he cried.

Smith said most of the doomed men made brief "long live Germany" statements on the scaffold. None of them collapsed, and most of them mounted the 13 steps to the rope steadily, though with U. S. Army guards at each side.

Julius Streicher, the Jew baiter, was the only one to shout "Heil Hitler," as he was about to mount the scaffold. Smith said.

He made the most commotion. Smith continued, shouting bitterly and defiantly: "the Bolsheviks"

Pheasant Hunting Has One Fatality

Lansing, Oct. 15 (P)—Michigan hunters moving in nearly a half million strong on choice pheasant areas of the state today, found opening day luck "not much improved" over last year's poor shooting.

Conservation department officials said however, that the 10 a. m. opening held down the first day kill and that the delayed starting hour made it difficult to compare the shooting with last year.

First victim of the season was Byron E. Linsbury, 73-year-old Jackson attorney, who was killed with a shotgun blast in his chest about five minutes after the shooting started. He was hunting near Horton.

Although there were numerous first day mishaps, no other fatalities were reported.

Conservation officers said the warm and dry weather also hampered hunting making it difficult for the hunting dogs to work in the fields.

Three Found Dead In Triple Tragedy At Detroit Home

Detroit, Oct. 15 (P)—Three members of the family of Maurice Minier, 31, were found dead in bed in their apartment tonight and police began an investigation to determine cause of the triple tragedy.

Police Lieutenant Leo Doyle said preliminary investigation indicated the trio died from an overdose of medicine and autopsy were planned for Wednesday.

Mrs. Helen Keyser, a roomer in the apartment, discovered the bodies on her return from work today. Minier, his wife, Helen, 28, and their four-month-old son, James, were lying across a bed.

Mrs. Keyser told police the Miniers had been under a physician's care.

will handle you." He was the only one to speak after the hood had been placed over his head, mentioning something about "Adele, my beloved wife," Smith added.

Frick in Gaudy Jacket
The executions took place under electric lights inside a small gymnasium inside the Nuernberg city jail prison yard, about 85 yards from the death block.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel asked for the protection of God for Germany just before he died and gave his thanks to the priest. Alfred Rosenberg, the Nazi party philosopher and the only one of the 11 men to refuse religious solace, was pale but composed as he came to the gallows. Asked if he had any last word, he said: "No."

Hans Frank, former governor general of Poland, muttered a barely audible thanks for the good treatment he had received as a prisoner and asked God to take him under his "good protection."

Wilhelm Frick, the Nazi "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia, was dressed in a gaudy sports jacket, the same one he wore during the 10 months of the war crimes trial in the nearby courthouse. As he got his first glimpse of the gallows he cried out: "God bless Germany always."

Job Takes 90 Minutes
There was no official communique other than Col. Andrus' verbal announcement. There will be none. The remainder of the information came from the eight correspondents who covered the executions—two each from the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia.

The executions took approximately 90 minutes, after Ribbentrop dropped through the trap at 1:14 a. m. (7:14 p. m. EST Tuesday). The last to die was Arthur Seyss-Inquart, former gauleiter of the Netherlands, who went through the trap at 2:45½ a. m. and was pronounced dead at 2:57 a. m.

An envelope was found on Goering's body containing penciled notes.

After the 10 men had hanged, Goering's corpse was brought into the execution chamber to carry out the sentence at least in symbol. His face was pale in death as it was in life and his features were peaceful.

Scars Stand Out
Goering's body was brought in at 3:00 a. m., on view before 45 witnesses.

Ribbentrop was pronounced dead after 14 minutes and 45 seconds, while Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, German chief of staff, was termed executed after 16 minutes.

Ernst Kaltenbrunner, chief of the Nazi security police, was so pale when he mounted the gallows that the scars on his cheeks shone out a blood red color. He declared:

"I loved my people and my country. I have done my duty toward my country at a difficult time and I have not participated in the crimes I am charged with."

Fritz Sauckel, the Nazi labor boss who had done the most protesting about his conviction in the two weeks since the trial, went to his death bravely and cried: "May God protect Germany and my family."

Each of the condemned was held steady by two American army guards from the time he left his cell until the time the trap was sprung. Their hands were tied behind them with black shoe laces and their feet were strapped with army belts.

This final drama for the ring-leaders of Nazidom took place in a gymnasium where only last Saturday the men who had guarded the convicted criminals since last November played a basketball game.

Opinion Clears Up Voting Rights Of College Students

Lansing, Oct. 15 (P)—Attorney General Foss O. Eldred declared in an opinion today that there is no legal bar to a college student voting in a college town, but that he must establish his residence there to the satisfaction of election officials.

The opinion was requested by President John A. Hannah of Michigan State college, M. S. C. reports said veterans living in the college's Quonset colony had been refused the right to vote in East Lansing.

Eldred's opinion said:
1—A student in college who intends to return to his former home upon graduation does not obtain a voting residence at college.

2—A student who does not intend to return to his former home may acquire voting residence in a college town if he intends to remain there for "an appreciable length of time."

3—A student who has no intention of returning home, but it is uncertain as to his place of future residence "is generally held" to have acquired residence in the college town.

Eldred declared that city and township clerks have legal authority to question prospective voters and determine their eligibility to vote on the basis of the facts in each case.

Captured Convicts From Milan Facing Longer Sentences

Detroit, Oct. 15 (P)—Two of three escaped prisoners were back in the Federal Correctional Institute at Milan, Mich., today, facing extension of their sentences that may range as high as five years.

Philip Henry Comer, 32, and William W. Lake, 28, both Canadians who were serving two years terms as immigration law violators, pleaded guilty today before Federal Judge Theodore Levin to federal escape act charges.

They were remanded to Milan to await sentence, which may be a maximum of five years each and fines of $5,000.

A third Milan prisoner, Norman Peter Robinson, convicted under the Mann Act, was still at large today, 24 hours after a posse of nearly 500 marines and sailors cornered Comer and Lake after a manhunt on Grosse Isle near Detroit.

Colleges Jammed; Michigan State Has Opening For 2,500

Lansing, Oct. 15 (P)—Only a few more students can be "squeezed in" at all Michigan colleges and universities, the state department of public instruction said today in its first state-wide report of over-crowded conditions at educational institutions.

Of the institutions in the state, Michigan State College, with its enrollment already past 13,000 students, can provide accommodations for the largest group.

If its current building program proceeds on schedule, the department said, Michigan State will be able to accommodate 2,500 men and women veterans by the opening of the winter term, Jan. 2. An additional 1,550 should be accommodated by March.

Only 352 openings are now available at the remaining 34 colleges and junior colleges, the department said, and 260 more can be accommodated later this fall. Western Michigan College of Education said it would take in 300 more students "if more classroom and laboratory facilities can be provided."

Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette can take in 150 students with housing for 45 married and 96 single veterans available on Dec. 1, and Michigan College of Mining and Technology can accommodate from 40 to 50 men and 10 women freshmen students in liberal arts at the Sault Ste. Marie annex of the college.

Army Pilot Flies 3,000 Miles To Mother's Bedside

Detroit, Oct. 15 (P)—An army pilot reached the bedside of his stricken mother today after a dramatic 3,000 mile flight from blizzard-swept Edmonton, Alberta.

Principals were Lieut. Victor H. Whittier, 25, an operations officer at the American Air Transport Command base in Edmonton, and his mother, Mrs. Victor G. Whittier, 54, of suburban Highland Park.

Whittier was breakfasting at Edmonton Monday when he received a telegram that his mother had suffered a brain hemorrhage and was in serious condition.

Flying conditions in the area were sub-normal but the lieutenant finally secured permission of his commanding officer to make a flight to Great Falls, Mont., the limit of his command, and within an hour Whittier was on the way in a DC-3.

Accompanied by Lieut. Danny Lapin of Arkansas and a Sgt. Woodall, Lieut. Whittier flew through a blizzard and reached Great Falls where he received permission to take the plane through to Minneapolis.

There he boarded a commercial airliner for the last leg of the trip and reached his mother's hospital bedside just 19 hours after receipt of word of her illness.

Hospital attaches said Mrs. Whittier's eyes brightened when the lieutenant entered her hospital room. She raised her arm feebly and toyed with his medals in their first meeting since he went overseas a year ago.

Physicians said the mother showed some improvement following the lieutenant's arrival, but that she still was in serious condition.

Five Major Industries Face Further Cut in Lead Quotas

By MARSHALL W. BERGER
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The lead shortage, aggravated by domestic smelting strikes and by import bottlenecks, has now reached the point where five major lead consuming industries are due to suffer at least an additional 50,000 ton cut in allocations during the remainder of 1946.

This amount will be over and above the trimming of 100,000 tons already scheduled for authorized uses.

Moreover, some further reductions in allocations are held likely by Government officials who point out that in the future greater quantities of lead will probably be titles channelled into the emergency housing program for steel, pipe, caulk and caulking. Whatever amounts are required for housing needs will be requisitioned from supplies which were allocated originally for the major lead users.

Industries Affected
The five industries faced with further allocation reductions are: Batteries, cable, chemicals, oil, fluid, and ammunition.

Earlier this year

We shall continue to fill orders for service in their proper turn just as fast as we can. As supplies start flowing more freely, you'll see some real results.

John Fazer Named To Road Comish

Menominee—Menominee county supervisors elected John Fazer of Powers a member of the Menominee county road commission to succeed Oliver Nadeau of Nadeau by vote of 15 to 6.

Road Commission Hears Petitions To Extend Roads

The Delta county road commission in meeting Monday afternoon heard three delegations of petitioners who seek the improvement of existing roads or the extension of new county roads. The commission also signed a contract with J. G. Depuydt of Perkins for the grading of one-half mile of the Peterson road in Ford River township. Cost of the work is approximately $2,600.

W. C. Wickam and son presented to the commission petitions signed by 50 persons asking that a county road be extended from US-2 south from the Whitefish river hill to the shore of Little Bay de Noc near the mouth of the river, where a resort development is under way. Steep hills and a crossing of the Soo Line railroad make the suggested route difficult of accomplishment. The commission took the petition under advisement.

George Kornetzke of Escanaba also presented a request for the improvement of the Busky road in Ford River township, which was started in WPA days. The road would serve four or five families in that area.

Application for the construction of a new road on the Wells-Escanaba township line three-eighths of a mile west from county road 426 also was received. J. T. Sharpsteen, engineer-superintendent for the commission, will with a contractor make an investigation to determine whether some work may be possible there this fall.

The commission now has approximately 30 applications, mostly for new county road construction, on file. County road funds will continue low until next spring, but as much work as funds and weather conditions will permit will be done this year.

Meat Decontrolled

ACCORDING to pressures that were irresistible, President Truman has taken the government completely out of the meat situation and from now on the meat industry and the consumers together will have to work out their own problems. That is the way it should be, particularly in view of the pathetic record of government intervention.

Meat prices will rise and the immediate reaction of the public may not be a happy one but they will gradually work lower as consumer buying resistance develops.

Now that meat has joined dairy products from the list of decontrolled commodities, the sensible thing to do is to junk OPA price controls completely. They have proved to be wholly ineffective and in recent months, at least, the price controls have served as a barrier to production of many important commodities. Production is our sole hope of working out of the present inflated price levels.

For the past several weeks, as mounting pressure against meat controls developed, it has been obvious that the administration could not hold out for long on the determination to retain OPA authority over meats. The pressure came not alone from the meat industry but primarily from the hundreds of thousands of American consumers who were becoming more and more weary of searching day after day for a few pieces of meat that were gradually getting scarcer and scarcer.

Progress Continues

NEWEST development in Escanaba's industrial program comes with the announcement that the Escanaba Concrete corporation has been organized here for production of ready-mixed concrete.

Machinery and other equipment have been ordered and will be installed during the winter near the site of the Biehler gravel pit at Groos. The plant will begin operations in the spring and will employ about fifteen persons. In addition to furnishing employment, the new industry will make a valuable contribution to the community in that it will speed up much-needed construction work in Escanaba and vicinity.

Industrial and commercial developments in Escanaba during the past year or so give cause for much optimism locally. There are bright prospects for the launching of other new industries in this community in the near future. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has "sold" a couple industrial concerns on the idea of locating here, but the finding of suitable quarters for them now presents an obstacle which, it is hoped, will prove to be only temporary.

Escanaba's industrial expansion activities have attracted wide attention. It is building up a reputation for being a progressive community, and as a result is receiving a windfall of new opportunities, none of which is being overlooked.

Trek to the Country

RECENTLY heard remarks to the effect that city residents are investing in rural property to obtain security from atomic bombs perhaps are not so silly, after all.

Speaking at the National Catholic Rural Life conference in Green Bay this week, J. C. Cant, director of the Bureau of Census, stated that the fear of atomic warfare may solve the problem of how American farmers are "going to keep 'em down on the farm."

The census director pointed out, however, that there are other factors, which are accelerating the trek back to the country. City dwellers, with more leisure time on their hands, are turning to farm life as a supplement to their regular occupations. Better transportation and communication facilities are also banishing the feeling of isolation that rural residents felt a few decades ago.

City folks have been investing in farm lands as a hedge against inflation. Others have decided they want to enjoy life, and so are using their wartime savings for that hunting and fishing cabin along some lake or stream. After having gone through a war, they have come to the conclusion that money is not to be hoarded but to be used for assisting them in the enjoyment of a fuller life.

These are some of the reasons for the public's interest in rural life. The fear of atom bombs, creating widespread destruction in Chicago, Detroit and other large population centers as was done at Hiroshima, quite likely is also back of many people's minds.

A Tragic Lesson

THE fatal shooting of a 10 year old youth Sunday, the result of wanton carelessness in the use of firearms, should convince every parent that it is extremely hazardous, as well as illegal, to permit youngsters of this tender age to wander out with such dangerous weapons as .22 rifles and shotguns.

Youngsters do not fully appreciate the dangers that lurk in firearms. A rifle is not a toy but an extremely dangerous weapon and it is difficult, if not impossible, to convey this thought to lads in their tender 'teens.

The first rule in handling guns and the most important is never to point a gun at anything that you do not intend to shoot. All four boys involved in the tragic affair Sunday violated this cardinal rule, with the result that one of the boys was killed.

The tragedy that occurred north of Rapid River Sunday could have occurred in most any part of Delta county. There are hundreds of youngsters who possess .22 rifles and who go out hunting unguided by their elders, all in violation of state regulations and, of course, in violation of normal rules of good judgment.

It is tragic that a lesson of this kind must come as a result of the death of a youngster, but it is a lesson that should not go unheeded in any home where there are youths . . . and firearms.

Other Editorial Comments

THE SALES TAX AMENDMENT (Grand Rapids Press)

County School Commissioner Lynn H. Clark, who is opposing the sales tax amendment, apparently objects to it chiefly because it would "distribute the money to schools on a census basis rather than on actual membership." Originally, Clark did not, in fact, change his mind until it was decided to specify that the schools' share be distributed on a school census basis.

Presumably the commissioner feels that this provision of the proposed amendment would penalize the smaller schools. But that fear, we believe, has been dispelled by the Michigan Education association, which has said that the state legislature undoubtedly would write a formula to place distribution largely on a membership basis. This it could do by altering the formula for distributing state school aid other than primary interest funds.

Allotments to school districts from the general state fund are now made in this manner: A figure is fixed for each elementary and high school pupil. In school districts having a membership of 3,000 or more this year the two figures were, respectively, $70.50 and $90.50. These figures are then multiplied by the number of elementary pupils and high school pupils in the district, minus tuition pupils. From the total sum are deducted the district's primary interest fund allocation, elementary tuition receipts and a sum equal to a 2 1/4 mill tax on the valuation of the property in the district. The remainder represents the amount to be paid to the district from general state school aid on a membership basis.

The MEA believes that the legislature would inevitably deduct any funds to be distributed to a district directly from the sales tax, in the same way that it now deducts the primary fund. It points out that this has been the history of the state aid formula in the past—that is, to subtract funds distributed on a school census basis before figuring the state aid. If that were done, the formula for apportioning state aid, of course, would be changed. That could be done in several ways, the most obvious one being to raise the amount paid per elementary and high school pupil; but in any case, the membership base would be observed. Thus there is every reason to believe that the smaller schools would be protected exactly as they have been in the past.

There were 25 per cent more divorces granted in 1945 than in 1944. What we need is more proposals with a ring of sincerity.

Look at the bright side! At least you seldom find any billboard bordering a rough detour.

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

(Scrapbook Item)

Hookstown: My class of teen-age girls wants the origin of the term "sundae"—the ice-cream confection. Can you help us?

—Mrs. H. D. S.

Answer: The origin is uncertain. Most dictionaries link sundae vaguely with the word, Sunday. I have found an account of the day in H. L. Mencken's great book, "The American Language" (Alfred A. Knopf, New York):

"A popular etymology runs thus: In 1902 or thereabouts there was a sudden craze for enforcing the Blue Laws in Virginia (or some other Southern State), and selling ice-cream soda on Sunday became hazardous. An ingenious druggist, seeking to baffle the police, decided to give the beverage a new appearance and a new name, and so added a few berries to it and called it a 'sundae' in occult reference to the day. I offer this for what it is worth, which is probably not much.

Sundae is pronounced like Sunday, either: SUN-day; or: SUN-dee.

Oakland: The press is known as "The Fourth Estate." Why, and what are the other three?—Mrs. E. L.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Cleveland—Here in Ohio are all the elements of the national political scene in this confused and uncertain year of 1946. In Cleveland, what happened inside the labor movement is typical of what has occurred in many industrial centers.

The bitter split inside the CIO-PAC has a direct bearing, of course, on the outcome of the November elections. It began, or rather it came into the open, nearly two years ago. Communists, or fellow travelers on the Moscow line, had gained control of the Cleveland CIO Council.

They worked, as they invariably do, with intense zeal. They invariably turned up for all meetings, armed with a disciplined knowledge of parliamentary maneuver, and they stayed until the last vote was taken.

On a showdown, with the Communists in the majority, the council voted to endorse Arnold Johnston, state head of the Communist party, who was running as an independent for the school board. This caused a great outcry. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers pulled out of the council, and the United Steel Workers threatened to follow. The endorsement was repudiated.

—COMMUNIST FACTION WINS—
But the issue was publicly joined for all the world to see. In the two years that have followed, the quarrel between Communist and non-Communist has been fully reported in the papers. Last June, another showdown occurred over control of the local CIO paper. Again the Communist faction won. This time the revolt of the non-Communists was overwhelming. Five unions threatened to withdraw their locals from the council—which would have meant a loss of nearly half the membership and, more important, half the revenues.

After this dispute had been thoroughly aired, both factions agreed to put the issue up to Philip Murray, the harassed national president of the CIO. Murray sent one of his trusted lieutenants to investigate. As a result, the CIO head brought in an outsider who is today absolute boss of the Cleveland council. The man chosen for this job is George Denucci of Columbus, CIO regional director for Central Ohio.

Denucci, a solid trade-unionist who has never become involved in the maze of leftist politics, will clean out the whole organization after the election campaign. Then the council will elect new officers and begin over again. For the time being, the quarrel is in suspension.

But, politically speaking, the damage has already been done. The public quarrel has supplied the Republicans with effective documentation for their cry of Communism. In the past that cry has sounded pretty hollow. Now, however, faithfully reported from day to day, is the story of an intrigue, dominated by Communists and fellow travelers, to dictate the policy of one of the chief labor organizations in the state. The Republicans are using this handy campaign ammunition to the utmost.

—MIDDLE ROAD TOUGH—

It makes the position of middle-of-the-road Democratic candidates, such as Governor Frank Lausche and Senator James W. Huffman, very difficult. If they express approval of the reasonable measures of social reform advocated both by the Democratic party and the CIO-PAC, then they are daubed with the red brush.

That may, in fact, be the broader and deeper meaning of the Communist objective in America—to show that there is no reasonable compromise and that we must be all red or all black. If that is true, then the Communists are succeeding admirably in Ohio, where "Honest" John Bricker, Republican candidate for the U. S. senate, is beating the drums for an anti-Communist crusade.

In view of the split, how much real influence will the PAC bring to bear on November 5? In Ohio you get various answers to that question.

Registration of voters in Cuyahoga county, which includes Cleveland, is at an all-time high of 649,127. Even when duplications have been eliminated, it may exceed the 1940 record. Records or near records are reported for other industrial centers.

One is told two things about these registration figures. First, they're put down to a spontaneous outpouring of Americans who have "had enough." Second, one is told that the PAC has been the major factor in getting the voters to register. During the registration period, 50,000 workers went on strike and PAC cars took them from the picket line to the registration booth.

Whether the vote in the industrial centers will be a Democratic vote is another matter. When Lausche won in 1944, he carried only 17 of Ohio's 88 counties, but those 17 included the great mass of the Urban population.

For all the lusty confidence of the GOP, there could be a surprise in those imposing registration figures. Not until the votes are counted will the contents of that package be definitely known.

great classes or orders of a state who are invested with distinct political powers and whose concurrence is necessary to legislation."

The three estates in England are the lords spiritual, the lords temporal, and the commons.

It is probable that T. B. Macaulay first used the expression "Fourth Estate." In 1828 he wrote: "The gallery in which the reporters sit has become a fourth estate of the realm."

Later, Thomas Carlyle wrote: "... in the Reporters' gallery yonder, there sat a Fourth Estate more important far than they all. It is not a figure of speech, or witty saying; it is a literal fact—very momentous to us in these times."

SIGLER SPEAKS—The other day we devoted a column to a Democratic pre-rally dinner conversation with gentlemen of the press who accompanied Van Wagoner on a tour of the Upper Peninsula.

To-day we will tell you something of the table talk at a Republican dinner held in the Sherman hotel, honoring Kim Sigler, Republican candidate for governor, and other Republican state candidates. Following the little dinner the group went to Wm. Oliver Memorial auditorium in Escanaba Junior high school, where Sigler spoke in part over a state-wide radio hook-up.

Before the dinner we found Mr. Sigler seated at a small table in the dining room of the hotel, scanning a copy of his coming radio talk through the famous eyeglasses with their black cord. This talk about Mr. Sigler being a well-dressed man is correct—but he did not seem over-dressed or particularly eye-catching because of his suit. It was the kind which you would find on the back of almost any Escanaba business man.

"I find these radio talks difficult," he said, putting his pen down. "I would much rather deliver my talks without the necessity of preparing a script beforehand, but they are necessary under some rule or other."

AS A CITIZEN—The most fascinating thing about Sigler's appearance is his hair. It is what might be described as "iron gray" but there is a snow-white strip going from the forehead up into his crowning glory, which he combs straight back.

A short time later the dinner was served, and across the table from us sat George Averill, editor and publisher of the Birmingham (Mich.) Eccentric and one of Sigler's most ardent boosters.

"I'm interested in Kim Sigler as a private citizen of the state of Michigan," said Averill seriously. "I'm not an idol worshiper, but I believe Kim Sigler can do more good for the citizens of the state than any other man."

HIS INTRODUCTIONS—Following the dinner Sigler introduced the state candidates with him, and also other members of the party, who flew to Escanaba from Menominee. Sigler said that the 21-passenger airplane in which the party is touring the state "was placed at my disposal" by friends interested in his candidacy. He complimented the members of the crew who operated the plane, and introduced them.

He also introduced Hub George, Detroit Free Press political writer whose by-line is considered a guarantee of honest and competent reporting; and other newspaper men accompanying the tour. The Free Press in assigning Hub George to the Sigler tour placed their best reporting talent on the job.

Incidentally, the 21-passenger plane that carried Sigler and his party to Escanaba was said by those at our corner of the table to be the largest ever to land at Escanaba airport.

GOOD-WILL TOUR—Sigler in his introductions at the dinner said that the group on the campaign tour had "had a lot of fun", and had many laughs together. He related that Jim Gernstadt of Ish-

Mr. and Mrs. James Doran, 415 South 18th street, are the parents of a daughter born October 13 at St. Francis hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Judson returned to Escanaba Tuesday evening following a motor trip through Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana, climaxing the occasion of their golden wedding day, Oct. 5 by a visit to their former home, in the town in which they were married, Warsaw, Ind.

Notices were served to nine families here by the Delta county trustee officer to the effect that their children must attend school. The parents are given three days to discontinue strike against the school system.

A. J. Young of this city, Past Master of Michigan Masons, left Wednesday for Alma, Mich. to be present at the celebration, Saturday Oct. 17 of the one hundredth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Sarah Taylor, oldest living member of the order of Eastern Star.

The members of the party found these references highly amusing, and joined Sigler in laughter.

GETTING AROUND—In his talk prior to his radio broadcast, Sigler commented that he had traveled more than 12,000 miles on campaign in all 83 Michigan counties. "I have spoken in churches, basements, auditoriums and the back end of trucks—but your Junior high school auditorium is not only the most beautiful, it has the best acoustics of any place in which I have talked," he said.

MAN OF THE FUTURE

Harking back to the dinner for a moment, we recall that George Averill said the party would go from Escanaba to Detroit the following day by plane. Sigler was scheduled to speak in Detroit to a Polish audience on Pulaski Day. "Later this month on a tour of Lower Michigan Karl Detzer, the author, will join us for a week or so gathering material for an article he will do on Sigler for Reader's Digest," Averill said. "The story is scheduled for the January issue, so watch for it."

With a confidence probably shared by others, Averill declared that Sigler's possibilities in the field of politics and statesmanship will carry him far beyond Michigan. Averill, of course, takes for granted that Sigler will be elected

Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Escanaba Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. Is a partially employed veteran carried on the unemployment allowance roll for a longer period than the unemployed veteran because of his smaller readjustment payment?

A. Each time a veteran receives payment of a weekly allowance, regardless of the dollar amount of the payment, he has used up one week of the limited number of allowances to which he may be entitled.

Q. I was recently honorably discharged from the Army, but my former employer doesn't seem to want to give me back my old job. Where can I report this matter?

A. See your local Selective Service Board for instructions as to how you should attempt to adjust any differences arising between you and your former employer.

Q. Can a remarried World War I or World War II widow continue to receive compensation or pension?

A. No. Remarriage is a bar to continued payment of pension to a widow of either a World War I or World War II veteran.

Q. Why will a ball of lead weigh more than a ball of cotton of the same size?

A. Because the quantity of matter contained in the ball of lead is much greater than the quantity of matter contained in the ball of cotton. The attraction of gravitation being proportioned to the quantity of matter, it follows that the lead ball will be drawn towards the earth with a greater force (i. e. will weigh more) than the ball of cotton.

Q. What is the smallest automobile manufactured in the United States?

A. The American Bantam.

Q. Where did Portland cement get its name?

A. It was supposed to resemble "Portland stone," a common English building stone.

Q. What is a "side-door pullman"?

A. A freight car.

Q. Who sits (officially) on the Peacock Throne?

A. The Shah of Persia.

Q. Where do the highest tides in the United States occur?

A. In the vicinity of Calais, Maine, where the mean range is 20.0 feet and the spring range is 22.8 feet.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—It wasn't publicized, but at the last session of Congress, the big western cattlemen now withholding meat from the public also forced the American taxpayer to continue footing a large part of the bill for feeding the western cattle which he cannot now eat.

About 145,000,000 acres of public land in the western states are open to ranchers under the U. S. grazing service. Ranchers are permitted to turn their herds loose on the public lands for nearly the entire year at a cost of only five cents per head per month for cattle and one cent per head per month for sheep.

The grazing service, with a force of only 400 men and a budget of a little over $1,000,000, has done a valiant job of fighting erosion, keeping water available for vegetation and seeing to it that the land is in good condition for grazing.

Total yearly rentals amount to about $850,000, with half going to the states in lieu of taxes, and one quarter to improvements on the land. Thus, the taxpayer has to pay the remaining four-fifths of the cost of keeping the range in shape for the big cattlemen.

To offset this deficit, Grazing Service officials have been trying to raise the rental. Private and state lands, they point out, rent at from three to eight times as much. The American people, they argue, should be permitted at least to break even on their public lands.

At this point, Senator Zeeh-Ho Silver, McCarran of Nevada came riding to the rescue. McCarran, a member of the Senate Public Lands committee as well as of the powerful appropriations committee, always sides with the big cattlemen and silver miners. So he rigged an investigating trip through the west, and issued a report disapproving any increase in the grazing fees.

Meanwhile, the Grazing Service got pinched from the opposite direction. Congressman Jed Johnson of Oklahoma—where the Grazing Service has few lands—decided that the service should be put on a self-sustaining basis. Unless the fees were raised, he held, the Grazing Service budget would be curtailed.

This now has happened.

Coming on top of the meat strike, this may be just the thing to convince the Grazing Service that now is the time to increase grazing fees despite the threats of Senator McCarran. Already they have discussed the matter with Secretary of the Interior Krug, who feels that, since cattlemen are keeping their stock on the range instead of sending it to market, they should at least pay a reasonable price for the privilege of using the public lands for a sidown strike.

—FROM THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH—

Secretary of State Byrnes called Secretary of War Bob Patterson on the transatlantic phone to arrange for the army to fly 268 delegates from Europe to the United Nations general assembly in New York. . . . Acting Secretary of State Acheson will make a very important speech at the Al Smith dinner today, warning the diplomats of the world that unless they heed the wishes of the people of the world for peace, the people of the world will pick new diplomats who will ensure the peace of the world. . . . President Truman's speech before the general assembly of the United Nations will ardently emphasize Stalin's recent statement supporting the United Nations, and will urge the whole world to back the United Nations. . . . While the United States is pulling British chestnuts out of the fire throughout the world, Great Britain is busy opposing equal rights for American airlines in foreign countries.

—HARRY TRUMAN'S PRESS—

If Harry Truman could place an ad in the papers, probably it would read something like this:

"Wanted—Good press secretary; willing to work long hours; must be practicing newspaperman, not afraid to say 'no.' Low salary, but private car and plenty of prestige. Call National 1414 or write H.P.T., 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C."

There are few weaker spots in the White House staff than Truman's press aides. Vulnerable Charlie Ross, the President's secretary, simply isn't filling the bill. Personally one of the finest gentlemen in Washington, Ross is by nature an introvert; doesn't get around much, is a poor spot-news reporter and a complete failure as a press agent.

Newsmen who cover the White House sometimes are genuinely alarmed at Ross' ineptitude. They claim he doesn't read the newspapers regularly, doesn't even keep up with the White House directives. Frequently, White House newsmen have asked about stories which were on the front page of the morning papers, but Charlie shows he simply has not read the papers.

By and large, the White House gang had no great love for Roosevelt's press secretary, Steve Early. Steve was tough, excitable, and a veritable hell-on-wheels when he got mad. But nobody could deny that Early was a crackerjack newspaperman and a whizz-bang press agent. He knew a story when he saw one, also knew how to develop the type of news which would help his boss along.

Ross, on the other hand, frequently knocks down stories that members of the administration float as trial balloons to help the President, sometimes finds himself embarrassed to find out that these trial balloons were accurate.

Now comes fall house cleaning. Just one pane after another.

Regardless of the price of apples,

ARRAIGN FOUR IN GAME CASES

Three Fined For Shining
Deer; Fourth Denies Similar Charge

Three Delta county men in one party pleaded guilty and paid fines and a fourth man arrested in another section of the county denied a charge of illegally hunting deer when they were arraigned Monday in justice courts at Gladstone and Escanaba.

The three who pleaded guilty to a charge of using an artificial light and attempting to take deer, and transporting a rifle during closed season, were arrested about 10 p. m. Sunday at Rock by conservation officers. Pleading guilty to the charge in Justice Oliver Estensen's court in Gladstone were:

Ernest LaCarte, 21, Mike Soper, 30, and Arthur Beauchamp, 45, all of Flat Rock. They were ordered to pay fines of $50 and costs of $9.50 each or serve 30 days in jail.

Conservation officers reported they confiscated a .300 caliber Savage rifle, two flashlights and two headlights from the three men.

Also on Sunday night about 9:30 p. m. in Ford River township conservation officers arrested Clarence Kasten, about 40, of Escanaba Rt. 1, who was charged with making use of an artificial light in attempting to hunt deer. Officers said Kasten was using the lights of his automobile in an effort to "shine" deer in a farm field.

Arraigned Monday in Justice Henry Ranguette's court, Kasten pleaded not guilty and demanded trial, which was set for Friday, Oct. 25.

bombs plus an unannounced weight of crew and essential supplies and equipment. It is still in the experimental state, as indicated by the "X" in its military designation, but in its first air flight it performed better even than expected. When finally ready for action it will be able to take off at home, drop bombs on Berlin, and return without a stop.

The new Navy plane, the Lockheed Constitution, is designed for a transport, and will be able to carry 168 fighters in addition to its crew of 12 men. It has an estimated capacity of 35 tons in cargo and passengers. Its ferrying range is estimated at 6,000 miles, and its top speed at over 300 miles an hour. Miss Elinor Hay, M. H. McLean Wed At Marquette

Miss Elinor Louise Hay, daughter of Howard L. Hay, Lake Shore Drive, became the bride of Martin H. McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McLean of Marquette, at a wedding which took place Oct. 12 in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Marquette, the Rev. John G. Carlton officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Robert Yingling, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor; Miss Carroll N. Anderson, niece of the bridegroom, bridesmaid; Miss Sally Ann Hay, the bride's sister, junior bridesmaid; J. Robert McLean, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Albert Howard and Charles McLean.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white embroidered satin, fashioned with a bouffant skirt, fitted bodice, long sleeves, and sweetheart neckline. A pearl tiara held the fingertip veil in place. She wore a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and red roses.

Mrs. Yingling wore a gown of pink marquisette similar to the bride's and a matching velvet Juliet cap. Rose-colored chrysanthemums formed her arm bouquet. The bridesmaids' blue tulle gowns were identical in design, and they wore blue velvet Juliet caps. Their colonial bouquets were of white and yellow pompon chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Hay chose a black crepe dress with black accessories, and Mrs. McLean wore a black dress trimmed with blue and a matching hat. Pink roses formed both corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 75 guests was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents, where the rooms were decorated with bouquets of pale pink gladioli. Mrs. Ray R. Anderson presided at the table, which had as its centerpiece an arrangement of pink flowers and white candles in crystal holders.

The couple cut the three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with the customary bridal figurines.

The bride is a graduate of Kalamazoo Central high school and of St. Camillus School of Nursing. She is on the staff of the Visiting Nurse association of Detroit.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Gravaert high school in Marquette, attended Northern Michigan College of Education and served three years in the army air corps. He is employed in the office of the Hudson Motor company in Detroit.

The couple are spending their honeymoon in Chicago, and will be at home after Nov. 1 at 8341 Woodward Avenue, Detroit.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Hay, their daughter, Sally Ann, and sons William and Robert, of Escanaba, and guests from Kalamazoo, Rockland, St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., L'Anse, and Milwaukee.

Dorothy Peters And Hugh Nelson Wed At Spaulding

St. Francis Xavier church at Spaulding was the scene of a wedding on Oct. 12 which united in marriage Miss Dorothy Marie Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peters of Spaulding, and Hugh William Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Nelson, 1510 North 16th street. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank Seifert.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk chiffon styled with lace inserts and a long train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of mixed flowers tied with long white streamers.

Miss Margaret Nelson, the bride's attendant, was gowned in blue tulle. She wore a small matching veil, and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Janice Gregory of Escanaba, who was the flower girl, wore a peach satin dress, and carried mixed flowers. The train-bearer was Gail Ann Johnson of Chicago, who wore a long white dress and a heart-shaped coronet. Kenneth Gartland, the ring-bearer, was also dressed in white.

James Zinskie of Marquette performed the duties of best man. Music of the nuptial mass was sung by Mr. and Mrs. P. Kass and Theresa Hupy, organist.

Later, a wedding breakfast was served at the Nelson home in Escanaba. Thirty-five guests attended a supper at Belle's Coffee

Officers Elected By Red Cross At Annual Meeting

At a meeting held Monday night in the Delta County Red Cross chapter headquarters, new officers for 1946-47 and executive committee men were selected to guide chapter affairs for the coming year.

It was the consensus of the Red Cross executive committee members and the directors that this economy move would receive the complete cooperation of the Red Cross in all instances.

POLICE CHIEF CANNOT FIRE

Authority Vested In City Manager City Attorney Rules

Authority to dismiss a police officer from the local service is not vested in the chief of police, but in the city manager who is under authority to act only after the officer concerned has had a hearing of his case.

This matter was threshed out in Monday night's meeting of the city council when Councilman Walter Burns stated that Police Officer Elmer Anderson had come to him before the meeting and told him that he had received a letter from Police Chief Roy Anderson notifying him that he had been dismissed from the service. The letter of dismissal stated that Anderson (Elmer) was dismissed because of "insubordination, neglect of duty and for making false arrests," and the recipient of the letter stated that he wanted a hearing on those charges.

Chief Anderson was present and stated that he had written the letter and in discussion of the matter the question arose as to what right he had to act as he did.

The city attorney consulted the city ordinances covering the case and then stated that while the city chief of police has authority to suspend, authority to dismiss is vested in the city manager and this action can only come after the officer so suspended has had a public hearing.

The chief's letter, therefore, was ruled to be of no effect and details as to why the chief desired dismissal of the officer were not presented.

The matter brought on considerable heated discussion over the authority vested in the chief of police before it was finally settled.

At the meeting tentative designation of the following polling places was announced: First Ward, Linderth Implement Co.; Second Ward, Lincoln School; Third Ward, City Hall; Fourth Ward, Lakeside school. The list of election officers is complete with exception of inspectors who will be named by chairman of the Republican and Democratic committees.

DICKSON NEW CITY MANAGER

Escanaba Man Assumes Duties Tuesday Morning

James D. Dickson is Manistique's new city manager.

His letter of acceptance to the offer made at a recent meeting of the city council was read at Tuesday's meeting of that body and later in the evening he arrived personally.

"When do you wish to start?" Mayor William Berger asked him. "I am ready to start right now," he said.

His assumption of office was on a nominal basis that evening, but Tuesday morning he took charge in earnest.

Frank Voisine, who has served as acting city manager since the departure of former City Manager Charles D. Manson, will remain on duty until the end of the month and collaborate with the new manager and help him familiarize himself with the routine work and the various city departments.

Dickson is 39 years of age, is married and is the father of a young daughter. His home at present is 1204 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, but he plans on moving to Manistique as soon as local housing permits. He is a veteran of World War II, serving in the army for five and one-half years. Part of his service was instructor in automotive repair and later as motor transportation officer. He holds a B. S. degree in civil engineering from the South Dakota State College at Brookings, S. D., and later finished a course of training in economics at the George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

From 1938 to 1940, Dickson was construction engineer with the U. S. National Park Service and later was assistant engineer to E. S. Benjamin, of Marquette. As a reserve officer in CCC work, he

A. E. JOHNSON IS STRICKEN

Hiawatha Township Man Had Lived In Area Sixty Years

Axel E. Johnson, 69, resident of this area ever since he was a child, died Tuesday morning at his farm home on M-94 in Hiawatha township following an extended illness.

Mr. Johnson was born in Sundsvall, Sweden, on October 31, 1877 and came here with his parents about sixty years ago. In 1903 he went to Denver, Colorado, where he lived nine years, returning again to Schoolcraft county. Except for this he has lived here continuously, engaging in farming. He was a member of the Bethel Baptist church.

Surviving him are two sisters, Mrs. Anna Oberg and Miss Hulda Johnson, both of the Hiawatha township vicinity. Two nephews, George Oberg of Detroit and LeRoy Oberg of Manistique, also survive.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Morton Funeral Home with the Rev. Harold Martinson officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Slaughter's Slide Wins World Series Thriller For Cards, 4 To 3

ESKYMOS MEET IRON MOUNTAIN

St. Joseph Trojans To Travel To Crystal Falls Saturday

The Eskymos will be hosts to the giant killers, Iron Mountain Mountaineers, here Saturday while the St. Joseph Trojans travel to Crystal Falls.

Iron Mountain's 7 to 6 victory over Menominee last Saturday was the biggest upset of the football season and although the victory came too late to put the Mountaineers back into contention for the U. P. championship, it proved that all of the nice things said about Coach Lafuente's team earlier in the season were well founded.

Prior to Saturday, the Eskymos looked like almost a cinch to take the Mountaineers into camp but the game now definitely shapes up as an even-Stephen deal. If there is a shade one way or another, it probably belongs to Iron Mountain whose victory over Menominee, although by the narrowest of margins, was certainly more scintillating than Escanaba's decisive victory over the bottom-ranked Kingsford Flivvers. After all, Escanaba lost to Menominee by 24 to 7, which doesn't even leave room enough for a good argument.

Eskymos Improving

The Eskymos, like the Mountaineers, however, are on the upgrade. Their ball handling during Kingsford was the best of the season and Coach Ruwitch has cause to hope that the epidemic of fumbles that plagued the Escanaba team in the first four games may have been conquered.

Whether either Belanger, halfback, or Goymerac, rangy pass snatcher, who were out of action last Saturday, will be ready for service this week still remains doubtful. Both are on the mend but the Eskymos still have two powerful opponents left after Iron Mountain and Coach Ruwitch has reported that he will not call either of the boys for service Saturday unless their torn ligaments are fully healed. In the case of Belanger, at least, this appears unlikely prior to the Iron Mountain game. Further injuries to either of the boys would probably keep them out of action for the remainder of the season.

Trojans Brew Trouble

While the Eskymos sharpen their spears for the Mountaineers, the Trojans of St. Joseph are cooking up a batch of trouble for Crystal Falls. The Trojans dropped a 19-0 decision to Norway last Saturday but they did it without losing any of their self-respect, gaining practically an even break on the statistical sheet if not on the scoreboard.

Big gun of the St. Joseph attack against Norway was Marenge, whose fullbacking will probably spearhead the Trojans Saturday against Crystal Falls.

DOG SAVES COUPLE

Watervliet (P) — Barking of their pet dog awakened Mr. and Mrs. George Owens in time to escape from their burning cottage at Paw Paw Lake. The flames, believed to have started in the kitchen, destroyed the cottage.

THIS ONE FAILED — Bill Smith, Eskymo halfback, didn't quite snag this pass in the Kingsford game Saturday. The ball dropped harmlessly for an incomplete pass. Bill Cousineau, Kingsford quarterback, is tailing Smith on the play. Dave Friets, Escanaba end, is the other potential receiver on the play.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The guys who write the football rules books for college and high school teams are still a few steps behind the National Pro league rules codifiers, because neither the college nor prep rules books makes any provision for official scorers. The pros, however, not only stipulate that official scorers must be appointed by the commissioner's office for all league games but further provide a detailed set of scoring rules so that statistics may be standardized. Eventually the college and high school rules committee will get around to this.

Of course, the college and prep rules books also are far behind the pro code in the important matter of putting the "foot" in football. The collegians and preppers keep the goal posts 10 yards back of the goal line, where they serve only as ornaments, but the smart pro guys, alive to the fans' desires, long ago brought the goalposts to the goal line, where they serve as an encouragement to field-goal kicking. Field-goals are virtually unheard of in prep and college football.

Remember the Dewey's ball club of pre-prohibition days? A veteran ball fan recalls those days — when meat was plentiful as well as the good old Escanaba Beer — in a letter to the Press. Travel was not as easy then as now and trips to Bark River, Schaffer and South Ford River were something of a project, but a happy one, with a keg of beer up front in the bus, and delicious steak dinners at the boarding house before the game. A trip to Marinette meant a boat ride on the Fanny C. Heart and the jaunt to Garden Bay was made on the Lotus. The fan even recalls the Dewey's lineup — Joe Gagnon, catching; Joe Fish, now at Wells, pitching; St. Peter, now in Milwaukee, first base; Bill Fountain, captain, now dead, second base; Albert Morin, third base; Luke Pepin, short stop; Minnie Roberge, left field; Sally Le Duc, center; Lorisall Dille, now in Chicago, right field; and Bill Denton, relief pitcher.

The Buffalo bowlers, Henry Kmidowski and John Gworek, who stunned the bowling world last winter by coming up from the booster ranks to capture the ABC doubles title with a 1360 series, will defend their title at Los Angeles next spring. Kmidowski had never before appeared in an ABC tournament, so he became the only man to win a title in the doubles event on his first try. Gworek had bowled in the 1925 and 1926 tournaments and was a 174 average bowler last year. Their team average of 347 provided no hint at all that they were going to grab one of bowling's most coveted championships.

No real moonstones are found in America. Most of them came from Europe.

BRECHEN NIPS RALLY IN NINTH

Deciding Tally Catches Red Sox By Surprise At Home Plate

BY GAYLE TALBOT

St. Louis, Oct. 15 (P) — An almost unbelievable piece of base running by Enos (Country) Slaughter and stout-hearted relief pitching by Harry (The Cat) Brecheen in the ninth inning enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to pull out a thrilling 4 to 3 victory today in the deciding game of the World Series.

Slaughter, catching the Boston Red Sox completely by surprise, raced all the way home from first base with the winning run in the eighth inning on a simple line drive into centerfield by Harry Walker on which any runner except a Cardinal would have pulled up at third.

Hesitation Fatal

Johnny Pesky, Red Sox shortstop, took the relay from Leon Culberson, Boston centerfielder, and had plenty of time to nail the flying "Country," but for some inexplicable reason he "froze" and held the ball just long enough to enable Slaughter to slide in under the throw.

As exciting a championship play-off as perhaps ever was fought out ended some 10 minutes later as Brecheen quelled a last-ditch Boston rally and retired the last three batters in succession with the tying and winning runs on the bases.

Brecheen, by relieving his close pal, Murry Dickson, in the eighth frame and getting credit for the triumph, became the ninth pitcher in series history to win three games.

The diminutive lefty wasn't his wizard self today. The Sox blasted him for the two tying runs in the eighth on a double off the rightfield wall by Dom DiMaggio. He had relieved Dickson after the first two Sox batters, both pinch-hitters, had singled.

York Singles

Then in the ninth the hub batters threatened to blow the little guy right out of the box, and they had him reeling, but he hitched up his belt and protected that lead Slaughter had given him with a series of pitches that threatened to pull his weary arm out of its socket.

Rudy York opened Boston's last desperation inning with a single to left and Speedy Paul Campbell was sent in to run for him. Bobby Doerr followed with a liner into left on which Campbell pulled up at second, and Manager Eddie Dyer held a worried conference with Brecheen. He decided to leave the Cat to his task.

Pinky Higgins could do no better than ground into a forceout at second, on which Campbell scooted to third. Roy Partee popped up to Stan Musial at first, and then Brecheen bore down for that final out on pinchhitter Tom McBride. The Sox batter swung and sent a sharp bouncer to Red Schoendienst at second, and the redhead tossed underhanded to Marion for the forceout that ended the series and gave the Red Birds their sixth championship in nine play-offs.

Every player on the St. Louis squad swarmed onto the diamond and surrounded Brecheen and tried to pound his skinny shoulders off. The crowd of 36,143 stood and cheered him long after he had ducked from sight into the dugout.

Shaky At Start

Right up to the moment when the first two Boston ratted base hits in the eighth, Dickson appeared to be comfortably on his way to a 3-1 victory. The 155-pound righthander had hurled a beautiful game after giving up a run in the first inning, while his mates had slammed big Dave (Boo) Ferriss from the hill in a two-run fifth-inning outburst.

Dickson, who was beaten in the third game of the series, got off to a shaky start when the opening Sox hitters, Wally Moses and Johnny Pesky, rifled singles through the center, and one of them, Moses, scored on DiMaggio's long fly.

The Cards tied it up in the second when Whitey Kurowski led off with a double, reached third on an infield out, and counted on Walker's left to Ted Williams.

There it remained until the fifth, when the flock suddenly fell on Ferriss with a salvo of four hits, one of them a double by Dickson, that put two scores across and brought Joe Dobson to the rescue.

Dickson, in the meantime, had settled down and, with the assistance of some sensational catches by Terry Moore and Harry Walker in the outfield, had kept the Sox hitters shackled. From the second inning through the seventh, only two Boston players reached base. Bobby Doerr clouted a single in the second and Dickson issued his only walk to DiMaggio in the sixth.

Williams Cheated

Moore made probably the greatest play of the series in the fifth inning when he raced nearly to the wall in left centerfield and speared a long smash by Pinky Higgins with one hand. He had made one almost equally gaudy in the first off Ted Williams in center.

Between Moore and Walker, Williams was treated shamefully. In his next time up after Moore had robbed him, long Ted poled one a country mile to left-center, and this time it was Walker who raced over and pulled it down with a handsome catch. Williams, who went hitless, was shooting accurately at the vast space left open to him in centerfield, but his luck was bad.

Hal Wagner, Boston catcher, was lifted for Pinchhitter Rip Russell to lead off the eighth, and he caught hold of a Dickson curve solidly and shot it into centerfield. Gus Metkovich then hit for Relief Pitcher Joe Dobson and sent a screamer down the left field line for two bases, sending Russell to third.

That was where Brecheen came in. He struck out the first batter to face him, Wally Moses, and caused Pesky to fly out to right which was too short for Russell to attempt to score. But DiMaggio busted one far out into rightfield against the fence, and both runners easily trotted home to tie the score. Williams popped up to end the rally.

Enos Didn't Stop

Bob Klinger was in the box for the Sox when the Cards came to bat in their half, and it was he who was charged with the defeat. Slaughter met him with a single to center, but it looked as though he was destined to get no farther than first as Kurowski, attempting to sacrifice, popped to Klinger and Del Rice flied out.

Then Walker looped one out slightly to the left of second, and Culberson came in fast to take it. Actually it was no more than a single, though Walker was credited with a double after Slaughter made his remarkable sprint.

When Culberson's peg reached Pesky at deep short, Slaughter actually was only rounding third. It simply did not occur to Pesky that Enos was going on for the big one. He started to toss to second to cut down Walker, which he could have done, and then, too late, saw his mistake and made a quick, startled throw to Partee at the dish.

Slaughter slid in with the winner's share of the series spoils.

MARATHON CHAMPS

St. Louis, Oct. 15 (P) — The Cardinals still are the marathon champions of pennant winners. It was the fourth time the Redbirds had participated in a seven-game World Series and they've still to lose one.

In registering his third straight triumph, Harry (The Cat) Brecheen joined eight other pitchers who have won three games in a World Series. The others were Bill Dineen of the 1903 Red Sox, Charles (Deacon) Phillippe of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the same year, Christy Mathewson of the 1905 New York Giants, Charlie (Babe) Adams of the 1908 Pirates, Jack Coombs of the 1910 Athletics, Smokey Joe Wood of the 1912 Red Sox, Red Faber of the 1917 Chicago White Sox and Stan Coveleskie of the 1920 Cleveland Indians. Dineen, Phillippe and Coveleskie won theirs in best-five-of-nine series.

Before the game today a well-wisher told Ted Williams that "I hope you get hot out there." The slugger's reply with a wry smile was: "Now that would really be something for me to do in a World Series game wouldn't it?" But his modest sarcasm was in order. The Cardinals kept him tamed again and when it counted.

Protective measures to assure an uninterrupted warmup for Murray Dickson, who said he had been bothered by photographers in Boston, failed to avert the shaky start for which the Cardinals' slender right-hander has become noted. Ushers fringed the dugout and area in which Dickson loosed his arm.

Chuckling over his mail before game time, Cardinal Manager Eddie Dyer said with a grin that he was sorry to have incurred the wrath of a New York woman who wrote him the Redbirds were "gangsters" for having stopped Ted Williams. She must feel worse about the whole thing now.

Among the spectators today were Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler; Ford Frick, president of the National League; Jimmy Doolittle, former commander of the Army's Eighth Air Force and now an oil company executive; and Maj. Gen. Harry A. Vaughan, military aide to President Truman. Vaughan told reporters the president was listening to a radio account of the game.

BRAVES RIDING AT TOP OF HEAP

Gladstone, Ironwood Are Only Unbeaten And Untied Teams

Gladstone Braves rocketed to the top of the U. P. gridiron standings over the past week, tied with Ironwood with four victories and no defeats but hailed as the leading scorers of the Upper Peninsula.

Knocked from the undefeated list over the weekend were Houghton and Menominee, the latter sustaining a stunning setback from Iron Mountain.

Along with Gladstone and Ironwood, Stambaugh still remains in the undefeated list but the Hilltoppers' record is somewhat marred by a 7-7 tie with Norway. The Hilltoppers are almost certain to finish unbeaten, however, as their last remaining game is with Kingsford, now at the bottom of the U. P. rankings with no victories and four defeats.

Outstanding games of the approaching weekend are Ironwood at Menominee, the color of which was slightly dulled by the Maroons' setback last week; Iron Mountain at Escanaba, a game that has no bearing on the championship but deserves billing as one of the topnotch attractions of the week; and Gladstone at Ishpeming. The Braves meeting a team that proved its class last Saturday by upsetting Calumet decisively.

The standings including only games between U. P. schools:

Team	W	L	T	TP	OP
Gladstone	4	0	0	152	14
Ironwood	4	0	0	72	29
Stambaugh	4	0	1	80	21

Hydroplane Cracks Up In Trial Snurt On Detroit River

Detroit, Oct. 15 (P) — Albin Fallon's hope of breaking the American hydroplane speed record suffered a setback today when his Miss Great Lakes cracked up in a trial run on the Detroit river.

The driver, Dan Foster, and the mechanic, Louis F. Meier, were hurled 40 feet into the air but landed clear of the boat. Fallon, who was in a cabin cruiser, came to their rescue and took them to a hospital, where attendants said their injuries were not serious.

Coast Guardsmen who towed the damaged craft to shore reported seeing it suddenly spin around, squirt into the air and drop back into the water.

Fallon had been aiming at Gar Wood's record of 124.91 miles an hour set at Algonac with Miss America X in 1932. Miss Great Lakes, which recently won the President's cup on the Potomac and challenged Guy Lombardo's Tempo VI for the Gold Cup here Labor Day as Miss Golden Gate III, was clocked at a 113 MPH speed in trial runs.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
Chicago, Oct. 15 (P) — In the first day of uncontrolled prices, hogs rose as much as $11.00 a hundredweight to set a new price record, cattle climbed as much as $8.50, and sheep set a new record at $25.00 for slaughter lambs and $12.00 for ewes.

A top of $25.75 was paid for mixed steers and heifers, though most comparable slaughter animals advanced $3.00 to $3.50 to take $20.00 to $25.00. Cows and bulls were up $2.00 to $3.00 or $20.00 and $18.25 respectively, while vealers were up $2.00, selling generally for $20.00 and downward.

Stock cattle continued in heavy demand and prices advanced 50 cents to $1.60.

Hogs flooded past the ceiling dam of $16.25 to reach $27.50 on good and choice barrows and gilts, most of which ranged from $24.00 to $27.00. Sows were up $7.25 to $8.75, selling largely from $23.50 to $25.00. Shippers took 500 head of the 300 on sale and packers brought in 300 on direct consignment. Major packers reportedly were completely out of the Chicago market, however, with all supplies going to small local packers and outside order buyers.

Slaughter lambs were up $3.00 and $4.00 or more, although there had been no ceilings on sheep at the live level. The top and popular price on good and choice natives set the $25.00 record, well above the previous high of $23.00 set August 25. Yesterday's top was $21.00. Yearlings were scarce but quoted at $19.00 for good and choice, while slaughter ewes were $1.00 to $2.00 higher at $12.00.

Receipts included 2,600 cattle, 800 calves, and 2,800 sheep.
